

Truman In Call To Leaders

Conference to be Held on Tuesday Over The Situation In South Korea

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(AP)—President Truman today called congressional leaders of both parties to a White House conference tomorrow on the Korean situation.

Senator Lucas of Illinois, the Democratic leader, told a reporter that so far as he knows the President is not contemplating any drastic new steps. He added:

"I think the President is planning to review the situation to keep leaders of both parties up to date on developments in Korea."

Another administration lieutenant, who asked not to be quoted by name, said he understood tomorrow's meeting may be the first of more or less regular gatherings to keep lawmakers abreast of the fighting trends.

Unity of Purpose

Republicans have been complaining they were not consulted in advance on any of the steps Mr. Truman has taken with regard to Korea.

In that connection, Senator Knowland (R-Calif.) today urged that President Truman invite Republicans into his cabinet and establish a "government of national unity" for as long as the Korean crisis lasts.

In a Senate speech, he also called upon Mr. Truman to tell the American people he would not use his office to assist Democrats in the congressional elections.

"Such a policy would be of the highest statesmanship and a major contribution to the national unity so desperately needed at this crucial hour," Knowland said.

Knowland's speech touched off a general Senate discussion of Korea during which Lucas said he knew of no immediate emergency legislation to be asked by the administration. He added: "I don't say it won't be done."

House Speaker Rayburn (D-Tex.) had said earlier after a White House conference of Democratic congressional leaders that there was a "probability" more military appropriations would be asked.

Rayburn told reporters that President Truman did not say he would seek more defense money.

"But I think it is a probability," Rayburn added.

He said he was confident Congress would vote whatever funds were needed.

At the Pentagon, meantime, military men said the United States now has enough men and equipment in Korea to slow the Communist advance, but that no one should expect an immediate turn in the tide of battle.

The tone of the Pentagon forenoon "briefing" for newsmen was generally of caution against over optimism as a result of the weekend's heavy air strikes and other successes against the North Koreans.

A spokesman said American forces had done "a remarkable job" of building up men and equipment in Korea.

But he indicated that U.S. ground troops in Korea might still have to trade space for time.

Any request from President Truman for more military appropriations might mean the end of the pending bill to cut excise taxes by over a billion dollars.

Some influential Congress members already have taken a "go slow" attitude on tax cuts in view of the international situation.

Senator Byrd (D-Va.) has also begun a drive to cut domestic spending in anticipation that military spending will have to go up to fight the war in Korea.

The White House conference was attended by the congressional Democratic "big four"—Rayburn, Vice President Barkley, Senate Leader Lucas (Ill.) and House Leader McCormack (Mass.).

Discussion Is on Over a Strike Threat

Mediators Try To Avert a New Railway Strike

CHICAGO, July 10.—(AP)—With one major rail walkout ended, the nation faces possibility of another today.

A strike by AFL switchmen which has stopped service on four roads and hampered a fifth was halted in two stages by government pressure.

Last Thursday, the union cancelled its walkout against four of the roads after President Truman said the strike was stopping the flow of grain and cattle and threatened national defense. The strike remained in effect against the Chicago, Rock Island and Pacific railroad because, the union said, parallel rail services were available.

A federal court late Saturday night sent the last 1,500 striking switchmen back to work on the Rock Island.

Other Unions Meet Today, three other rail unions met in Chicago to decide whether their 250,000 members will strike to back up their demands for a shorter work week and higher pay. They are the Teamsters, Conductors and Yardmasters.

A cooling off period under the railway labor act ends Saturday, leaving these unions free to strike at any time after that. A spokesman for the Order of Railway Conductors said the court order to the switchmen and government seizure of the Rock Island lines Saturday "have not made any difference in our thinking."

Federal mediators have been trying to persuade officials of the three unions to settle their disputes with the carriers without resorting to strike action. The National Railway Mediation board reported last week that "good progress" had been made in negotiating off this strike threat.

With the government gravely concerned over military operations of U. S. forces participating in the United Nations intervention in Korea, President Truman has announced he is determined to keep transport arteries open. This firmness has been applied to the switchmen.

Is Given Prison Term By Court Martial TOKYO, July 10.—(AP)—George E. Lollace, 33, Bentonville, Ark., has been sentenced to one year in prison and fined $500 by a general court martial, the army said today.

Lollace, an employee of the Tokyo quartermaster depot, was convicted of striking a Japanese and extorting 1,000 yen (about $3) from him for wearing an army field jacket.

The White House conference was attended by the congressional Democratic "big four"—Rayburn, Vice President Barkley, Senate Leader Lucas (Ill.) and House Leader McCormack (Mass.).

Senator Byrd (D-Va.) has also begun a drive to cut domestic spending in anticipation that military spending will have to go up to fight the war in Korea.

Ask For 20,000 of Draftees

Department of Defense Wants Them as Early As Possible

WASHINGTON, July 10.—(AP)—The Defense Department today asked for 20,000 draftees "at the earliest possible date," for the Army.

In a statement, the Department said that it was to meet manpower needs.

"No other recourse is presently available," the Department said. Shortly before the announcement, Maj. Gen. Lewis B. Hershey had estimated at a news conference that it would take selective service 60 days to start delivering men, once drafting has begun. But he said he believed it could furnish as many as 300,000 within 90 days if necessary.

Hershey, director of selective service, held the conference to answer some of the questions being asked about the draft since President Truman last week authorized its use if necessary to bring the armed services to desired strength.

From 25 Down Hershey said, selective service will start with the 25-year-olds and go down the line when it gets a call for men. (Only men aged 18 to 25 inclusive can be drafted under present law.)

Hershey said there were not many men who could be obtained from the 25 and 24 age brackets because many exempted veterans of the last war were in those groups.

He said when you get down to age 23 you begin to get into the group that didn't fight in the war. Asked whether he thought as many as 300,000 men could be gotten from the 23 bracket, Hershey said he didn't know but thought that number could be found in the 23 and 22 brackets.

Those estimates would mean selective service could call up 300,000 men without dipping into the pool of men under age 22.

Senate Confirms Summer Pike WASHINGTON, July 10.—(AP)—The Senate today confirmed Summer T. Pike of Maine for a new four-year term on the Atomic Energy Commission.

The 55 to 24 vote overturned recommendations of the Senate Atomic Energy Committee. They had recommended a 5 to 4 vote that the Senate refuse to approve Pike.

Gen. Clay to Civilian Defense ALBANY, N. Y., July 10.—(AP)—Gov. Thomas E. Dewey today appointed Gen. Louis D. Clay as chairman of the New York state civil defense commission.

The commission will set up plans for civilian defense of the Empire state in the event of enemy attack, particularly by atomic bombs.

Clay formerly was military governor and commander of the U. S. armed forces in Germany. He retired from the army May 31, 1949.

Missouri Is Missing In Plane Crash WASHINGTON, June 10.—(AP)—A Missourian has been listed by the defense department as one of the seven air force and navy men missing in a plane crash in the Aleutians.

Wreckage of a B-17 of the 10th rescue squadron was found July 5. It crashed on a night near Shermar in the Aleutians.

Texan Shot Down First Red Plane

AN AMERICAN AIR BASE IN JAPAN, July 10.—(AP)—Members of a B-26 "bomber" group stationed at a base in Japan today announced that they had shot down the first North Korean plane of the war.

Just last week another member of the squadron, Sgt. William F. Smith, of New Bloomfield, Mo., was credited with getting the first Red Korean plane on June 30.

But today squadron members said Mickey was in the gun turret of a B-26 over Korea on June 28 when Yak-3 planes came up from behind. One Yak poured four rockets at the flight of three American bombers.

Mickey and the other two gunners fired back. As the Russian-made plane went down, his bag was consumed by his pilot, Capt. Dale P. Simpson, of Sweetwater, Tex., and another gunner, Sgt. Wm. P. Keyes, of Brighton, Mass.

Refugees Win Sixteen Seats KIEL, Germany, July 10.—(AP)—German refugees from Communist Eastern Europe won sixteen seats Sunday to be a strong political force in West Germany, today began an ambitious program.

In parliamentary voting yesterday they got nearly a quarter of the vote in the Schleswig-Holstein elections and won 16 of the state parliament's 69 seats. There were 1,341,754 votes cast.

It was the first time West Germany's 10,000,000 refugees had an opportunity for concerted action. They showed they could be a cohesive force.

Nearly 1,000,000 of them live in many in squatter camps in the North German state. West German observers watched their first test at the polls as an indication of the future.

Today Wakenaar Kraft, first chairman of the refugee party (BSH), outlined a brief initial program.

Kraft declared that one of the first moves would be to organize the refugee party on a West German Federal Republic level.

To Demand New Elections This done, he said the refugees would demand dissolution of the current Federal Parliament and new elections in which the refugee party would take an active part.

No complete party platform has been formally outlined by the refugees, but their pre-election campaigning stressed three things:

1. Immediate equal sharing of the war burden in West Germany. The West German Parliament is contemplating a law which would distribute the burden among persons financially able to bear it.

2. Quick creation of jobs for the hundreds of thousands of unemployed refugees.

3. A broad resettlement program to re-locate refugees into states which do not have a concentrated population of refugees.

4. Recognition of official rights (as persons) for those refugees who said public office before losing them to Nazis or Communists.

Not mentioned on today program by Kraft but prominent in refugee speeches in West Germany were demands for return of German territories given to Poland or Russia. The refugees are particularly bitter and anti-communist on the point of lost territories.

'Lost Battalion' Legend Dates Back to World War One NEW YORK, July 10.—(AP)—Over the years the legend of the "Lost Battalion" has been told in every American conflict since World War One.

That one was part of the 77th (New York) Division and in its own way it said "Nuts" to a German demand to surrender, just as Maj. George Anthony McAuliffe said it in the last war when his 101st Airborne division was surrounded at Bastogne.

Now another never-say-die force of American fighting men outnumbered 10 to 1, was out in the middle of a World War II battle.

The original "lost battalion" was part of the men of Oct. 2, 1918, in the Argonne forest in a battle northeast of Charlevaux and it was rescued the night of Oct. 7.

Charges Branded As Ridiculous WIESBADEN, Germany, July 10.—(AP)—A U. S. Air Force spokesman today branded "utterly ridiculous" charges that American planes from Germany had made illegal flights over Czechoslovakia.

The Czechoslovakian government today protested that American planes had made illegal flights over that country between July 1 and 4, and also had bombarded Czech crops with potato bugs.

The spokesman said: "There is really nothing to say about such wild charges except that they are utterly ridiculous and absolutely untrue."

Meat And Bread Up in New York NEW YORK, July 10.—(AP)—Retail bread and meat prices went up in New York today.

Continental Baking Co., and the Golden Baking Co. hiked the price of a loaf of bread a penny a loaf to 17 cents. Other bakers were reportedly ready to do the same thing.

The Great Atlantic and Pacific Food Co. announced increases in the retail price of meat ranging from one to four cents a pound. The new price of sirloin steak, for instance, is 97 cents a pound.

Chuck steak will cost 65 against the former price of 59 cents a pound.

Speckmen for the large chains said heavy consumer demand for meat continued despite recent increases.

The Agriculture Department said at Washington last Thursday that consumers higher prices for beef and pork are likely in the Korean situation leads to stepped-up government spending for military supplies. Such spending, the department said, would give a "new surge" to the national income and larger buying power could be expected to lead to stronger demand for meat.

Red Division Pushes Twenty Miles From Taejon In Advance

Their only opponent on the Republican ticket will be Miss Hazel Palmer, 661 South Vermont avenue, who is the present county collector.

Free Postage To GIs in Korea WASHINGTON, July 10.—(AP)—The Senate today passed a bill granting free postage to U. S. servicemen fighting in Korea.

The bill, sponsored by Chairman Tydings (D-Md.) of the Senate Armed Services committee, was adopted by voice vote within a few minutes after it was offered.

Tydings told the Senate the bill would permit GIs fighting in Korea or any other combat zone the President might designate, to send letters free of postage.

Tydings noted that similar privileges had been granted during World War II.

First Casualty List Has Two Killed WASHINGTON, July 10.—(AP)—The Defense Department today issued Korean casualty report No. 13, listing two killed, five wounded, five missing and two injured.

The Army reported two men in injured, one of whom was Pfc. Hubert Dignett, son of Mrs. Evan Maben, Box 1321, El Dorado, Ark.

Report of Red Atrocities at Korean Front Seven U. S. Soldiers Found Bound And Shot in Face

Advanced American Headquarters in Korea, July 10.—(AP)—The bodies of seven American soldiers, their hands tied behind them, were found by the roadside in territory recaptured from the Communist North Koreans today.

Each had been killed by a bullet in the face.

The bodies were found by Lt. D. C. Gates of Joinerville, Tex. Gates said he found the Americans this afternoon, after four of them had gone at 9:30 a. m. (6:30 p. m. EST Sunday) to a front line area subsequently lost and regained.

"They turned a corner and ran into two tanks," he said.

One jeep turned round and made a dash for it, Gates said. The driver was killed but his companion escaped.

"An observation post saw two in each of the other jeeps surrendering," Gates said. When I arrived on the spot I found my four men and three mortar men, their hands tied behind them and a bullet fired in each face."

Gates said the Americans had been assigned to move ammunition forward.

He said Americans and North Korean troops still were fighting over possession of the area where the atrocities occurred at the time he left to make his report to headquarters.

General MacArthur, United Nations Commander in Korea, warned last week that atrocities perpetrated would be punished if caught. He promised humane treatment to Red troops captured.

(Four before the murder of the Americans was discovered, Tokyo headquarters reported American planes had dropped leaflets inciting North Korean troops they could expect decent treatment if captured. The leaflets also said General MacArthur "will expect similar treatment for American soldiers and members of the armed forces of the United States" as well as of all other persons who might fall into North Korean hands.)

Pravda Charges On UN Council MOSCOW, July 10.—(AP)—The Communist party newspaper Pravda today branded as "shameful and illegal" fighting going on under the United Nations flag in Korea.

In a New York dispatch, the paper described as a "shameful farce" the Lake Success resolution of July 6 placing American and other forces aiding South Korea under United Nations command.

"From now on," the dispatch said, "these armies are to be called the armies of the U. N. and will act under the flag of the U. N."

"Thus," it continued, "there is being formed under the flag of the U. N. a coalition of imperialists beasts of prey for the bloody suppression of the Korean people."

Pravda declared that use of the U. N. flag in Korea is illegal and does not express the real will of that body.

Proposes Better Pay For Guards IRONWOOD, July 10.—(AP)—Michigan's Governor G. Mennen Williams pleads with vigor his case for better pay for prison guards—they helped save his life.

The tall, 38-year-old governor was visiting in the Marquette prison Saturday when three desperate convicts attempted to seize him at knifepoint as a hostage for their escape.

His bodyguard, State Police Capt. George Kerr, broke up the riot by shooting fatally a ringleader who had stabbed him slightly. A guard and a kitchen steward also were injured. But the governor escaped unhurt.

Terrific Air Blows Of Americans Slow Offensive; 'Lost Battalion' is Safe WASHINGTON, July 10.—(AP)—Maj. Gen. Otto P. Weyland said today that the U. S. is building air fields in South Korea.

One airfield, he told a news conference, should be completed this week and others should be ready soon.

So far all air support has been operating from Japan—which has meant that planes have had to travel such long distances they have lost part of their fighting effectiveness.

By the Associated Press The North Korean First Division has stabbed to within 20 miles of Taejon, emergency capital of South Korea. Gen. MacArthur's communique reported today, but slashing American air blows were reported denting the southward-driving Communist offensive.

The Red first division—which for two days had trapped an American "lost battalion"—sheared east of Chonan and advanced to the vicinity of Chongang, the communique said. A force of North Koreans, probably the 3rd division, is reported in contact with American forces just north of Chochiwon, a rail junction 15 miles southeast of Chonan. The second North Korean division engaged elements of a South Korea corps on a front just south of Chicheon, northeast of Chonan.

The Reds made their closest advance to Taejon after the last battalion slugged its way out of the trap and rejoined its regiment for action, the communique said.

Battered Red Tanks The previous communique had reported a lull on the main battlefield after a furious "round-the-clock air assault. The attack knocked out 46 Red tanks, caused heavy losses in equipment and slashed at Red troop convoys with what Lt. Gen. George E. Stratemeyer called "unknown but considerable losses." Stratemeyer said in an interview the combined efforts of American ground, air and naval forces had stopped the Communist drive deep in South Korea.

An Associated Press dispatch from the front said U. S. troops, pouring on the heaviest artillery fire yet reported from the defending side, at least temporarily halted the Communist drive below Chonan, some 50 air miles south of the Red-held South Korean capital, Seoul.

In an unopposed sweep, 150 U. S. aircraft raked the Communists with bombs, rockets, machinegun fire and a gasoline firebomb called napalm.

The light bombers and fighters wrecked or damaged 46 tanks, destroyed 69 trucks and destroyed or damaged much other equipment. Red troop casualties were reported heavy. Various communique to date have listed kills totaling 132 tanks in the 15 days of the Korean war.

Battalion Back to Safety A U. S. "lost battalion" fought back to safety against heavy odds after being cut off in the July 8-9 battle near Chonan. The battalion slugged its way back through an enemy force which outnumbered it 10 to one. MacArthur praised it for its "bold and most successful, holding, delaying and rear-guard action." The unit was not identified.

Moscow's Communist party newspaper, Pravda, called the fighting of the defenders under the U. N. flag "shameful and illegal." It said "there is being formed under the flag of the U. N. a coalition of imperialist beasts of prey for the bloody suppression of the Korean people."

ceived copies of the United States Constitution. After this all the delegates received a copy of the American Citizen's Handbook. We walked back to the Department of Labor Auditorium and had a concert by the United States Navy band. From 10:00 to 10:30 p. m. A. B. C. Broadcast from Department Auditorium under auspices of National Defense with United States Navy band. This was their regular program heard each week.

"On Wednesday morning, June 21, we had with us again Mrs. Charles F. Brannan in charge of a panel discussion. Their topic was Youth Contributions to a United World. This panel was composed of Rural Youth Leaders of the World.

"On our final afternoon at National 4-H Club Camp we went of a pilgrimage to Mt. Vernon. We went by boat down the Potomac river. At Mt. Vernon we had a silent tribute to the tomb of George Washington. While at Mt. Vernon we walked around and through the buildings there. When we were leaving late in the evening it was a beautiful place to see from the boat on the Potomac.

"That evening we had for the closing of National 4-H Club Camp a 4-H International Candle Lighting Ceremony at Jefferson Memorial. This was a beautiful sight just across the river from Washington's Monument and in front of Jefferson's Memorial. We had a speech by T. Sutton, Jett, Curator, "National Parks Service on the subject "Jefferson, the Man". After this each delegate was presented with a Historical 4-H Memento. They were like the one that was presented to President Truman.

"At the Formal Closing of National 4-H Club Camp, World Brotherhood and World Peace were stressed. Understand it, Cherish it and Live it.

"We started our journey homeward on Thursday morning, June 22. We traveled through West Virginia and down the Skyline drive in the Appalachian Mountains in Virginia. The Skyline drive follows along the top of the mountains in the Shenandoah National Park in Virginia. We saw a lot of beautiful country on this drive. We crossed the Appalachian trail several times which runs from Maine to Georgia. On our travel down the Skyline drive we came through the Cumberland Mountains.

"We stayed the first night on our way home at Ashland, Ky. The next day we visited a former county agent in Missouri who now lives near Lexington, Ky. His name is Ira Dryman. Mr. Dryman moved to Kentucky several years ago and managed Dixie Anna Farms owned by Fisher of Fisher body company. New he has his own farm and is raising race horses. This was a very interesting stop. Mr. Dryman took us over to the Faraway Farm where Man O' War is buried. This was very interesting to see. We saw two sons of this famous horse.

"We stayed in Salem, Ill., the second night and came the rest of the way on Saturday, June 24. "I really did have a wonderful trip. I feel I have profited a lot from my experiences to National 4-H Club Camp. I enjoyed meeting fellow workers from foreign countries and see how we are so close together in the world today. I hope many more fellow 4-H members can have an opportunity to attend National 4-H Club Camp.

Advise Cleaning Up Of Grain Bins

Clean up grain bins before putting the newly harvested grain in them, is the advice of Leonard Haseman, entomologist at Missouri University. He says there is a good chance of carry-over of grain insects in empty bins. These expensive "boarders" make their homes in old grain, dirt, chaff and cobs and wait for you to bring in the winter food supply at harvest time.

Through the County Extension office Mr. Haseman says a general clean up will cut the damage caused by boarding insects such as the anguimoid grain moth, grain weevils and grain beetles.

Clean out all trash and sweep down the walls and ceilings. Then spray with DDT, using either the 50% wettable powder or the emulsion type sprays. One to two tablespoons of either DDT form to one gallon of water will give good results. Spray until the surfaces are wet.

If the grain bin is inside an

Loan Rate On Wheat Is At $2.08

A basic loan rate for 1950-crop wheat produced and stored in Pettis county of $2.08 a bushel was announced this week by the Production and Marketing Administration county committee. Last year's rate was $2.03 a bushel.

The basic rate applies to wheat grading U. S. No. 1, the committee pointed out. Wheat produced on farms cooperating in the 1950 wheat acreage allotment program grading No. 3 or better, or No. 4 or No. 5 because of test weight or because it contains wheat of the classes durum and/or red durum, will be eligible for Commodity Credit Corporation loan or purchase agreement. The committee said that schedule of premiums and discounts for the various qualities of 1950-crop wheat will be issued at an early date and will be available for inspection at the county PMA office in Sedalia.

To be eligible for the loan, wheat must be placed in approved storage either on the farm or in a commercial warehouse or elevator, according to the committee. Storage allowances will be continued for 1950-crop wheat on the same general basis as last year.

The county rate is based on a national average rate of $1.99 a bushel to farmers as announced by PMA earlier this week. The equivalent national average rate for U. S. No. 1 wheat is $2.09 a bushel.

The Agricultural Act of 1949 requires that the price of 1950-crop wheat be supported to farmers at 90 per cent of the parity price on July 1, 1950, the beginning of the marketing season. The committee reported that the July 1 wheat parity price was $2.21 a bushel. For the same date last year the wheat parity price was $2.17 a bushel.

Loans and purchase agreements will be available from CCC through the county PMA office in accordance with the program provisions from time of harvest through January, 1951. They will mature on April 30, 1951, or earlier on demand.

Sprays Increase Yield Of Corn

"Corn yields may be increased by 2-4-D sprays." This statement was made by Ross Fleetwood, Extension Field Crops Specialist.

An increasing number of farmers in Pettis county are applying liberal applications of fertilizer with an 80 bushel to 100 bushel corn crop as a goal. They have had their soil tested at the soil testing laboratory operated in the county under the supervision of the Extension Service. They are following the suggestion of the Extension Agent on amount and kind of plant food applied.

These goals of 100 bushels may be missed by 12 to 15 bushels due to weeds. Experiments show, according to Fleetwood, that 2 weeds per hill of corn may reduce the yield by 12 to 15 bushels per acre. 2-4-D won't replace cultivation but it will destroy weeds that may not be killed by normal cultivation and at time, it may even save a complete crop when weather conditions prevent working the soil. 2-4-D sprays are very effective in controlling broad-leaved annual weeds, but will NOT control grassy weeds.

other building it's a good idea to use the DDT on the outside surfaces of the bin.

4-H Judging Training July 26

Pettis county has been selected as the host county for the district 4-H Dairy Judging Training meeting to be held Wednesday, July 26, according to Bryan Phifer, Assistant County Agent. 4-H club members from 11 counties will participate in this training meeting which will be conducted by Mr. Pat Regan, Extension Dairy Specialist from the University of Missouri and the local extension agents.

The meeting will start at 9 a. m. at the Guy T. Yeater farm located 1 mile west of Sedalia on the Main Street road, where the group will judge classes of Holstein cattle. Other forms to be visited during the day are the Schloboom-Hall farm where the group will judge Guernseys and the Paul Reed farm where classes of Jerseys will be judged.

The purpose of this judging is the further training of 4-H club members in dairy judging. Club members who participate in this event should have some previous dairy judging experience and know the parts of a dairy animal.

All Pettis 4-H dairy project members who have had some judging experience and all 4-H club project leaders are invited to attend this meeting. The experience gained from this type of training meeting is of real value and few men are as well qualified to give this type of training as Mr. Regan. He thoroughly enjoys working with young people and has a reputation for his assistance to 4-Hers in this type of work.

Everyone attending should bring their lunch.

Good Fertilizer

The application of Agricultural limestone is listed as practice No. 13 in the Pettis Co. ACP Handbook. The credit rate for application of limestone material meeting specifications is $1.45 per ton. Pettis county soils, as a result of crop usage, erosion, and leaching have become generally deficient in calcium. While Pettis county farmers have used an average of approximately 40,000 tons of Agricultural limestone annually for the past several years, this does not represent our annual need for replacement of this plant food in the soil. Some fields and some farms have been supplied with a sufficient amount of calcium to meet present needs and in such cases it is both uneconomical and undesirable to apply additional limestone until it is needed.

When used in connection with a good crop rotation which includes a liberal use of legumes, limestone plays a very important part in a successful farming operation. Limestone is a fertilizer and

Suspend Wool Selling Schedule

The Production and Marketing Administration of the U. S. Department of Agriculture announced today, that effective June 30 schedules of selling prices for the 1950 shorn and pulled-wool price support programs were suspended indefinitely.

Present selling schedules are being withdrawn because of a previously announced policy to maintain 1950 wool selling prices as high as market prices. Market prices for wool have been rising rapidly for several weeks and are now far above prices in the selling schedules.

Since no wool has been purchased should be considered as such. It provides calcium which is an essential plant food. For example, 4 tons of alfalfa hay removes 207 pounds of calcium from the soil, which is the equivalent to an application of 240 pounds of calcium from the soil.

Limestone is not a cure-all as some are inclined to believe. In order to obtain maximum results from lime and fertilizer, it is necessary that the plant foods be kept in proper balance. This points up the need for soil tests to determine plant food needs and to eliminate hazardous guessing. Any plan of supplying the soil with calcium, nitrogen, phosphorus, or potash should be guided by soil analysis to determine the amount of each plant food needed. Generally, an average application of 2 1/2 to 3 tons of limestone will last from 8 to 12 years, depending upon the rotation followed, degree of erosion and other factors.

Everyone attending should bring their lunch.

Amerasia Case: A Wartime Spy Mystery Even More Mysterious After New Probe

By DOUGLAS LARSEN
NEA Staff Correspondent

WASHINGTON — (NEA) — So far the reopening of the mysterious Amerasia case has only heightened its mystery.

But U. S. citizens now know a lot more about the facts of the affair and its real significance than they did two months ago. Since then, there has been important action on it which could lead to complete exposure of all of its devious angles.

On June 6, 1945, six persons connected with the magazine Amerasia were arrested "for conspiracy to violate the espionage statutes by possessing government documents." It was called a Communist-inspired plot and created a mild, two-day sensation. That's the last most people ever heard of it.

Very quietly on a Saturday morning, Sept. 29, 1945, Amerasia's editor, Philip Jaffe, pleaded guilty to a charge of stealing documents, paid a $2500 fine and went about his business. Emanuel Larsen, a State Department employee, didn't confess the charge and got off with a $500 fine.

Kate Louise Mitchell, Jaffe's co-editor, Lt. Andrew Roth of the Navy, John Service, another State Department employee, and a freelance writer, Mark Gayne, the others arrested were not indicted.

Here are the important, revealing facts on the case which have recently come to light.

Members of the Communist party in America called a series of frantic meetings after the arrests to raise money and plan the defense of the persons arrested.

When Jaffe's case was heard by Federal Judge James M. Proctor, no mention was made of Jaffe's Communist connections or possible espionage. The prosecuting attorney let the judge believe that Jaffe was merely guilty of "excessive journalistic zeal," and that he was just trying to improve the magazine.

Among the 1700 government documents taken by the FBI as evidence, at least five were extremely important. They included the Navy's wartime plan for counter-intelligence in the U. S., a confidential analysis of developments in the Pacific war revealing the location of 25 U. S. subs, a report of secret messages between President Roosevelt and Chiang Kai-shek. It had been the contention of the apologists for the Amerasia case handling that none of the 1700 documents were other than "trivial."

Before the arrests were made, Defense Secretary James Forney urged the Department of Justice to take it easy on the case, lest it hamper the President in his tushy dealings with Russia. President Truman countermanded this order personally and told the FBI to go ahead full speed on it.

The biggest break came last May 26. Rep. Sam Hobbs (D-Ala.) made public for the first time the testimony of his committee which had made a half-hearted probe of the case in 1946.

This record revealed that an FBI security officer had claimed that Jaffe "had access to almost everything" in the files of the government's war agencies. It brought out in detail the attempts of the Justice Department to blame the FBI for not making a good case against the defendants through illegal seizures of evidence. Also in the Hobbs records were the flat contradictions of FBI spokesmen. They said the evidence was legally obtained.

In the last two months, these

MAKES IRONING EASY

FAULTLESS STARCH

Absolutely Faultless For Over 60 Years

important events have taken place in the Amerasia case.

The resultant reopening of the case by Sen. Mildred Tydings (D-Md.) A special committee headed to investigate charges of Communist in the State Department was forced by public and congressional pressure to take this new look at Amerasia.

The Tydings committee vote of 5-1 to cite Jaffe for contempt of Congress by refusing to answer questions about the case.

The recall of Joan Service for questioning by the committee and the government's loyalty bond (And Service's subsequent clearance by that board).

The recommendation of a New York grand jury that the case be investigated further.

Introduction of a resolution signed by 21 Republicans which would have the Senate Judiciary Committee supplement the Tydings probe.

In spite of all this the important questions still to be answered are: Who intervened to get the case reopened? What part does the case play in the "sleazy" which have taken place in the last East?

Maybe the Tydings report will answer these questions.

The European Payments Plan

By Clarke Beach
WASHINGTON — An important new development in the European recovery program is the European Payments Union (EPU). The Marshall Plan countries are now drawing up its charter in Paris. Paul G. Hoffman, administrator of the Economic Cooperation Administration (ECA), has said the Marshall Plan won't succeed without it.

EPU is a novel Yankee idea, first broached to the western Europeans in a speech by Hoffman, Oct. 31. Congress was sold on the idea and made it a part of the law authorizing continuation of European aid for the fiscal year ending June 30, 1951. It stipulated that $600,000,000 of ECA funds should be spent through EPU in the coming year.

Backers hope EPU will eventually provide European manufacturers with mass markets throughout Europe. They could develop the cheaper, more efficient mass production methods which have done so much to make possible the enormous productive capacity and high living standard of the United States.

When Europeans want to trade among themselves now they find a formidable array of obstacles. Some European currencies are considered sounder than others and nations with good currencies don't want to exchange their money for that of weaker currency countries. Nearly all of the coun-will be so distributed this year instead of being allotted in direct aid. The individual manufacturer will receive his full payment in the currency of his own country. His government will get the dollars and EPU credits.

The proportion of credits and dollars received will operate on a sort of sliding scale—and this is the most ingenious feature of the plan. The more a country sells, the larger will be the proportion of EPU credits it will receive and the smaller will be the proportion of dollars. This will practically force the seller country to buy in other countries in order to use up its EPU credits.

On the other hand, the more a country buys, the larger will be the proportion of dollars it must put up in payment, and the smaller will be the amount of currency that will be accepted. When it runs short of dollars, it might be able to borrow some from ECA.

Meanwhile, its financial difficulties will become a matter for investigation by EPU and the International Monetary Fund. These agencies will send experts into the country to see why it is running such a deficit. They might find that its government budget needs tightening, that its bank credit policies should be changed, that its currency is inflated and so forth.

"A country which doesn't attempt to put its own financial

Dear Democrats:
Having to walk with a crutch because of injuries I received when hit by a car in 1940, it is impossible for me to make a house to house canvass, to see all Democratic voters before the Primary Election; therefore I publish this letter to you, to solicit your support of my candidacy for the Democratic Nomination for Judge of Magistrate Court of Pettis County, subject to action of Democratic Primary, Tuesday, August 1, 1950. Your support and vote will be greatly appreciated and for such action on your part, I thank you in advance. I'm a member of The Pettis County Bar, The Missouri Bar, and enrolled in the Federal Court at Kansas City. Hoping to receive your support, I am,
Respectfully,

tries have tight import quotas to protect local industries. Some have high tariff walls. Here's what EPU will do:

When one country sells to another it will receive EPU credits, plus some gold or dollars, instead of the currency of the country doing the buying. These credits can be used in any other country in EPU. Thus all currencies become equally valuable for purposes of European trade.

Part of the gold or dollars will be America's ECA contribution. The $600,000,000 of ECA funds house in order will stand out like a sore thumb as a member of the union," says an ECA spokesman. "Since membership in the union implies the yielding of a certain amount of sovereignty, a country will have to listen to and act on advice from the union's managers who represent the other countries."

The Washington Merry-Go-Round

Gen. Willoughby, MacArthur's Aide, Responsible For Korean Intelligence Errors

By Drew Pearson

WASHINGTON.—A general who brandishes a swagger stick and talks in a crisp British accent is catching brickbats at the Pentagon for whopping intelligence errors on Korea.

He is Maj. Gen. Charles A. Willoughby, 58, German-born chief of MacArthur's intelligence who has been with him since Manila days. Willoughby copies his boss in both stance and garb, even to the scarf inside the open-throated shirt.

A few weeks before the Korea attack, General Willoughby dismissed Korea as "not important" in talks with visiting firemen from Washington.

"You must keep your eye on the Reds and know what they will do next," Willoughby pontificated. "You can take it from me, Iran is the place to watch. An attack very soon, old boy."

This was essentially the briefing given Secretary of Defense Louis Johnson and Gen. Omar Bradley in Tokyo. In fact, General Bradley, returning to Washington, was most cautious about committing aid to Korea because of Willoughby's advice.

Two errors of judgment laid at General Willoughby's door are:

1. The National Security Council decision that Korea's threat was to its "internal security." This was made despite a report from General Willoughby's own staff that there were some 70 tanks in North Korea. Tanks are strictly an offensive weapon, and now the key to the Communist successes. Yet Willoughby attached no significance to the presence of these tanks.

2. Overrating the South Korean army. In his first teletype conversations with the Pentagon after the invasion, General MacArthur confidently expected the southern army to take a firm stand. Actually, the southern army fell apart in virtually a complete rout. This has dangerously imperiled United Nations supply lines and ports.

NOTE.—To one delegation from Washington, General Willoughby lectured on the importance of prestige in the Orient. "It's the way you live, you know, that counts," he declaimed.

Capturing the South

For years Republicans have been hoping to capture or even make a dent in the solid Democratic south—without success. Now it looks as if they could do it.

Jonathan Daniels, who used to be one of the Roosevelt-Truman secretaries, had a heart-to-heart talk with his old boss in the White House the other day and told him how.

Daniels, who has been one of Truman's most loyal supporters, warned that the administration's continued blind support for the FEPC (Fair Employment Practices Commission) was ruining the Democratic party in the south, and would even defeat the best parts of the Truman program in the north.

Daniels, who comes from North Carolina and is the son of Woodrow Wilson's liberal secretary of the Navy, gave Truman a case history showing how Sen. Frank Graham, former president of the University of North Carolina and one of the outstanding liberals in the south, had been defeated for the Senate only because of the Negro-FEPC question. He also cited the Senate primary in South Carolina where the two candidates, Gov. Strom Thurmond, Dixiecrat, and Sen. Olin Johnston, both are trying to outdo each other in castigating the Negro.

And he indicated that Republican politicians are secretly invading the south to stir up the Negro question in order to elect Senators who bear the name "Democrat" but actually will vote Republican. Naturally the more pro-Republicans elected to the Senate—even though bearing the Democratic label—the less chance Truman has to pass his legislative program.

Smart GOP Tactics

It is doubtful if Jonathan Daniels' talk with the President made too much of an impression. Daniels had talked to him before—in Chicago last May and again last fall—without result.

It is also significant that certain Republican leaders, such as Senator Brewster of Maine, who votes for FEPC, have been using FEPC to undermine the Democratic party in the south. It is likewise significant that Guy Gabrielson, chairman of the Republican national committee, made an unadvertised trip to South Carolina the other day where Republicans are secretly backing Gov. Strom Thurmond, former Dixiecrat candidate for president.

Meanwhile, here is the inside story of the "battle of North Carolina," which shows how the GOP has now learned how to invade the south in sheep's clothing.

Up until June 5, 1950, Willis Smith, Senator Graham's opponent for the Senate, having trailed in the first primary, had not asked for a runoff. He was 50,000 votes behind Graham, and it looked as if he could not overcome his lead.

But on June 5 the Supreme Court handed down one of its historic decisions, opposing segregation in the University of Texas. This was announced in the North Carolina newspapers on June 5 and one day later Willis Smith seized this as a heaven-sent opportunity to defeat Frank Graham.

Graham had previously held a state-wide examination for candidates to West Point, announcing that he would appoint the man with the highest grade, and a Negro came out as third alternate. This was one of Smith's best weapons.

Helping him spread the anti-Negro propaganda were large amounts of Republican money, some of it raised by Senator Brewster, chairman of the Senate Republican re-election committee. Among other things, Brewster inserted in the congressional record a Reader's Digest version of a book by isolationist, pro-Fascist John T. Flynn, castigating Graham. Brewster's insert exceeded the allotted space, so part was paid for by someone other than the taxpayers. At any rate a million reprints were made and mailed from a box number in Grand Central station in New York, to box-holders in North Carolina.

Ex-Convict Enters Fight

One of the organizations which mailed these reprints was the committee for constitutional government, headed by Dr. Edward Rumbold, an ex-convict, jailed during World War I for being the agent of the Kaiser. Many reprints were mailed under the frank of Congressman Ralph W. Gurnea, New York Republican, friend of General Eisenhower, and who has loaned his frank to almost every pro-Fascist organization in the United States.

On top of this, Republicans cleverly concocted Negro endorsements of Graham under the phony title of the "National Society for Advancement of Colored People." There is no such society. But there is a "National ASSOCIATION for Advancement of Colored People," headed by Walter White.

By changing the word "association" to "society," however, and signing the letters "W.H.T." instead of "W.H.C." Graham's enemies succeeded in fooling thousands of North Carolina voters. Copies of these phony endorsements were mailed from New York to North Carolina boxholders. As a result, thousands of voters who had been for Graham in the first primary stayed away from the polls in the runoff.

NOTE.—Likable, lethargic Senator Guy Gillette, Iowa Democrat, is chairman of a Senate committee supposed to investigate expenditures of this kind. However, he has appointed as one of his investigators Fielding Wright, Jr., son of Gov. Fielding Wright of Mississippi, the No. 2 Dixiecrat; so it isn't difficult to guess how much investigating will be done.

France Can't Afford Skittish Politics in a Troubled World

By Bruce Blossat

The French Socialists caused the fall of Premier Georges Bidault's government. They withdrew their backing from the coalition of parties he headed. Their action could hardly have come at a worse time.

On the one hand, Korea is aflame with war and the western nations must take important decisions to combat Russian aggression there. On the other, six-nation parleys on the French-sponsored plan for a pool of Europe's coal and steel resources are just warming up.

No doubt the French are long since weary at being lectured by Americans on how to conduct their affairs. They have to take enough of it as a necessary accompaniment of the economic and military aid they get from us.

But apparently the facts of life in 1950 just won't sink in over there. In bygone days the world looked with amusement upon the frequent flip-flops of French premiers. It was something like the regular Monday morning revolution in a Latin American country.

There's no humor in this sort of performance in today's troubled world; nor is there evidence of political maturity in it. The French still seem to think they are playing some kind of child's game—musical chairs with the premier's seat the prize.

Any seasoned politician in any of the free nations ought to know that the great conflict raging with the Soviet Union (the Cold War) cannot be won unless a solid front is maintained continuously. And solidity demands stability.

Stable government is a circumstance France has seldom enjoyed. But it is one she had best set about achieving soon. If she wants to be taken seriously in the 1950 world, there is no room in the grim age for three to six months' floys in government. Who can count upon the word of a premier whose power may be stippled away tomorrow?

Apparently the mercurial French are not going to be hoarded into a few large parties each of which might be capable of governing France alone. Instead they are sticking to their old habit of splitting off into many parties, none strong enough to rule and some so small their membership would hardly fill a single hall.

Perhaps therefore the French should adopt a constitutional limitation on the frequency with which governments may be overthrown. It might be provided, for example, that any premier could not be ousted within less than a year of his taking office.

The penalty for failure to achieve a substantial measure of political stability could well be the shutting of France to the minor councils of international action. The French may not have many more chances to prove they deserve a bigger role.

Abundant Living

E. STANLEY JONES

Mail, 6-22-50; 7:15-23

A LACK OF TOTAL DISCIPLINE

We now take up, briefly, awaiting a fuller development, the fundamental of the major enemies of abundant living: lack of a total discipline.

"The future of the world is in the hands of disciplined people." This book (literally, a book) will meet the current. It is this statement that the future of the world is in the hands of disciplined people must be modified—the future of the world is in the hands of people who are disciplined to the highest total discipline. Very often our disciplines are too small; we are geared to concepts and purposes which are too small; so we remain small with the smallness of our concepts and purposes. Many are geared to the discipline of the family, which may be very good, but it is very inadequate unless the family is geared to something beyond itself—an absolute. The discipline of a nation, a club, a union, a church, a country, may be good, but they are not good enough. We must be disciplined to something that is over total meaning to the total life.

It is just this total discipline that is lacking in modern life. Modern life is so compartmentalized, specialized, pieced to pieces, that it lacks total meaning. Science is abstracted knowledge—I absorb knowledge about specific things, but fails to see with the sum total of reality and is meaningless; hence science can never exert a total discipline. Psychoanalysis picks people to pieces, but often cannot put them together again or a higher level. It uses psychoanalysis and not psychology; hence it cannot exert a total discipline. They picked me to pieces and couldn't get me together again! said a brilliant but disrupted woman. Just as the snakes of a whip, one link without a hub, so the power of the one a loose end unless fastened into the central hub—God and His Kingdom. There is simply nothing to which we can be totally disciplined except one thing—God's absolute order, the Kingdom of God. That and that alone gives total meaning to life.

Gracious Father, until I bring every thought to the obedience of Thy Kingdom, and every relationship under its sway, I am hanging at loose ends, and life lacks total meaning, and hence lacks purpose and power. Help me to a complete discipline to Thy Kingdom. Amen.

The Doctor Says—

Mongoloid Idiocy is Infrequent And Cause Undetermined

BY EDWIN P. JORDAN, M. D.

Written for NEA Service

About one child in 500 is born with a peculiar shaped skull and defective brain—a condition called mongoloid idiocy. Nine times out of 10 the diagnosis can be made on the first day of life.

Most mongoloid children are happy and friendly. During infancy most are imitative and they often like music. They rarely cry or speak roughly and the voice tends to be quiet and harsh.

The skull is small and round, the eye slits are narrow and tilted and a fold is present over the inner margin of the eye. Flies of those who have studied the subsequently the cheeks are red, the feet agree that there is a definite relationship between the age of the mother and the frequency of mongolism in a child, that is, the older the mother the greater the chance of having a mongoloid child.

The birth of a mongoloid child is a great misfortune. It should be considered as a pure accident and does not reflect in any way on the parents, the diet, the medical care, or any other known factor. Most people believe that mongoloid idiots should be committed to an institution as soon after birth as possible.

Immediate separation before emotional ties are formed is the best solution for family and child. The chances are good—although not absolutely certain—that other children will be entirely normal.

Many possible causes have been suggested, studied, and abandoned. Some people think, or at least have thought, that mongolism comes from some hereditary tendency, the exact nature of which has not yet been discovered.

In recent years, however, most of those who have studied the

"Don't worry about his gout—just keep him on his diet and hope that the ball team snaps out of this slump!"

THE Westbound local stopped at the little town of Wolf Point, Mont., at the unholy hour of 3 o'clock in the morning, just long enough for the single passenger to alight in the thin cold drizzle of a late April rain.

The conductor and a white-jacketed porter and a man in a shabby brown suit were standing in the vestibule. The porter went down the pullman steps ahead with his stool, a heavy suitcase, and a brand new leather doctor's bag with the name JOHN SAND, M. D., in gilt lettering on the side.

Tears came into the eyes of the man in the shabby brown suit and his lips trembled. "God bless you, Doc..." he managed to say.

"Thanks for everything, Doc," the conductor said. "This Great Northern Railway owes you something. I'll write it into my report."

John Sand's young face flushed a little. He went down the platform steps and almost missed the stool in the dark. The porter grabbed him in time to save him from getting a nasty fall in the wet under-embankment of the roadbed.

"Should be a law, yessuh! Should be some kind of a station platform even at these whistle stops." The porter shook his head and refused the half-dollar tip.

"No, sah, thank you just the same. Not from you, Cap'n. Them folks travelin' tourist should be givin' eternal thanks for the job you done paying for a stateroom and fetechn' that baby child into this cold world."

"Thank you, George for all the help you gave me," John Sand held out a hand. He shook hands with the porter whose face broke into a grin when he picked up the stool and climbed the steps.

JOHN SAND, M.D., stood there by the railway tracks and watched the train pull out. Bell clanging, steam hissing a white warm cloud through the black drizzle. Red and green lights winking in the blackness. A long mournful blast of the locomotive whistle.

"Wolf Point, Montana." John Sand spoke aloud through the faint self-mocking grin. "End of the line."

He stood in the black drizzle, shivering a little, as if he were waiting for something to happen. Like he was listening for the sound of the wolf howl that George, the porter, had prophesied.

When it came, John Sand gave a little start. A wolf had picked up the mournful echo of the locomotive whistle and the dismal howl sounded. In a few seconds it became a chorus that seemed to surround the man, and for a few moments there was something like fear swept over him. He had read about wolves that traveled in packs.

A dim light showed inside a

A big man reeled backwards through the short hall swinging doors with a gun in his hand.

small frame shack that housed the telegrapher. Then John Sand could make out three or four blobs of yellow light about a hundred yards distant. That would be the main street of the cow town and the lights came from the row of saloons that stood open 24 hours a day.

John Sand picked up his suitcase and bag and headed in that direction. It had rained just enough to make the gumbo clay sticky and the going was heavy.

He stopped a couple of times to get his wind but he dared not lower the heavy suitcase into the sticky mud. The next best thing was to shift the load to his other hand and that required a little juggling of his doctor's bag.

He was across the rutted muddy road that served as the main street when a gunshot exploded inside the saloon nearest him. Then came several shots that seemed to blend into one. John Sand stood tracked in the mud and stared at the tense, brief little drama of life and death.

A BIG man reeled backwards through the short hall swinging doors with a gun in his hand. He stumbled and fell and lay there, sprawled motionless on the wide plank sidewalk.

A second man shoved through the doors and stood there with a gun in his hand looking down at the fallen man. The gun pointed down at his victim.

He took a short step forward and nudged the man with the toe of his boot.

The last gun echoes died in the black wet night. The howling of the wolves had ceased and there was only silence, and for the man who lay on the wet plank sidewalk, it was the eternal silence of death.

The man who stood over the fallen giant was obviously a cowman, in high-heeled boots and broad-brimmed hat. A cartridge belt and empty holster sagged around his lean flanks. He was a raw-boned six-footer with a weathered face that looked pale against the dooping black mustache. He turned toward the swinging door.

"You better drag this tinhorn in outta the wet, Dutch," the cowman called to somebody inside. Then he turned and walked back into the saloon and John Sand could see that his left arm hung limply.

Here was the first real cowboy that John Sand from New Haven, Conn., had ever seen although he had read his schoolboy's share of dime novels about the wild and woolly west.

Wolf Point was giving John Sand, a year out of medical school and fresh from his internship in an eastern hospital, a genuine whoop-up wild west welcome.

THE doctor reached the sidewalk, carrying his bags, just as the punctured red-faced, bald-headed saloon man in a bartender's apron, came through the swinging half doors. The man's red face had a shiny mottled look. If he saw John Sand he gave no sign of it as he bent over and collared the man that lay on the sidewalk and dragged him inside.

John Sand followed him into the saloon. Several men grouped around the dead man on the floor. The cowpuncher who had done the shooting stood with his back against the bar and a bootheel hooked in the brass rail. His gun lay on the bar and he had a bottle of whisky in his hand. A green cloth-covered card table and a couple of chairs overturned in the far corner, cards and poker chips spilled on the pine board floor, were mute evidence of the struggle that had ended in death.

Five Perish in Flash Flood

CRETE, Neb., July 10.—(P)—Floodwaters that already have claimed the lives of five Nebraskans and caused damage likely to run into the millions charged down the Big Blue river today forcing wholesale evacuations.

Amphibious craft which piled through flood waters at York, Neb., yesterday evacuating persons trapped by a flash flood born of a torrential 13-inch downpour, were shifted to Crete today, where most of the north part of town was under four to six feet of water.

About 300 persons were in the flooded area but not all of them were evacuated at once.

Evacuations by the amphibious trucks and rowboats manned by Crete volunteer firemen began about 3:30 a. m. when a hastily built dam on the west edge of town gave way and sent the Big Blue waters pouring into the city.

vision has been writing several days for ships to take it and its air unit to the east.

Washington military chiefs had nothing to say about the extent of help Gen. MacArthur may have asked, and Washington was keeping a wary weather eye on Europe in the ever-present possibility of a sudden diversionary Communist move in that theater.

To Step Up Outlays
U. S. senate leaders called for cuts in domestic spending to make way for a raise in military outlays for the Korean war. Sen. Taft (R-Ohio), who has said he is willing to support any increase in military spending needed to bring victory in Korea, was one of the leaders of the demand for cuts in non-military spending.

Air reinforcements poured into American bases on Japan, and the U. S. air assault on the Communists grew in intensity. Lt. Gen. George E. Stratemeyer, the commander of the Far East air force, said planes now will fly night and day against the North Koreans and this air offensive "will shortly make itself felt in no unmistakable terms." He said to date the results of the U. S. air assaults are "outstanding, unbelievable and in some cases miraculous."

The first day of the "round-the-clock air assault caught Communist columns moving bumper to bumper along the road toward the front south of Chonnam. In 153 sorties — a sortie is a single flight — the airmen had a field day, despite bad weather.

Shattering Morale
Gen. MacArthur's communiques said there was evidence that the morale of the North Koreans was slipping under the heavy pressure of Allied warplanes. The communiques said enemy pressure gained some ground to the east, in the Umsong-Chungu area 70 miles northeast of Chonnam, where units of the North Korean 15th division forced back southern troops to high ground northwest of Umsong. Increased activity on the east coast still indicates a southward pressure, with opposition from "friendly" forces.

The "round-the-clock bombing began Sunday.

High Court in Upholding of Damage Suit

JEFFERSON CITY, July 10.—(P)—A woman who attended a Kansas City Blues baseball game should have known there was danger from foul balls being hit into the stands, the Missouri Supreme Court said today.

The court upheld the action of the Jackson County Circuit Court in dismissing a $10,000 damage suit brought by Betty Anderson against the Kansas City baseball club. She contended she was hit by a foul ball Sept. 5, 1947.

She said an usher took her to a seat that was not protected by wire netting and told her it was a safe seat. Therefore, she argued, the ball club was negligent in failing to protect her from injury.

But the court said "the risk and hazards involved did not result from defendant's negligence but were obvious and inherent in the game itself."

The court said the usher's statement had no legal effect.

In another case the Supreme Court agreed with the Boone County Circuit Court that Frank City, Spackman was not entitled to $10,000 damages from Dr. Walter Sparks, Columbia osteopath.

Charge of Arson Is Dismissed

What started out to be an interesting criminal case in magistrate court this afternoon in the matter of State Vs. Claude "Moose" Greer, charging him with arson, "back-fired" when Prosecuting Attorney William F. Brown entered a nolle pro after the first witness, William E. Larrimore, 79 years old, left the stand.

Larrimore was the only state witness, and from reports it was understood Larrimore gave a deposition as being an eye witness, when Frank Adams' barn burned on the night of March 30, this year.

It was understood this afternoon that Larrimore did not carry out information on the case, as was expected by the state.

Greer, who was charged with setting fire to the barn at 705 West Benton street, was dismissed, after spending three days in the county jail.

Michael Bogutski was Greer's attorney.

It was a fairly important case to some, as Frank Adams and his wife, have a $8,000 mortgage suit filed against the Missouri Pacific railroad, alleging a certain locomotive of the railroad, caused sparks to fly, thereby causing the blaze which destroyed the barn, a horse, cow, and calf and bridle.

Following the dinner, a short but important business session was conducted by Bob Wall, JCC president. Bob Younger, introduced all the Jaycees and their families.

A great portion of the evening was spent in getting acquainted, as well as many of the couples dancing.

Leaning Away From an MVA

JEFFERSON CITY, Mo., July 10.—(P)—Missouri put in an official plea today for thorough basin-wide planning of national water resources.

The state's official water policy, released today by Gov. Forrest Smith, leaned away from control by "Valley Authorities" like the proposed Missouri Valley authority.

Instead, it urged legalization of the present Missouri Basin inter-agency committee a cooperative venture by state and federal agencies.

This is what the report said about "Valley Authority" approach:

"Granting the mechanical efficiency of the 'overall' principle in resources development, the people in large numbers are not yet ready to like it as an idea nor ready to live under the authority necessary for its application."

The Missouri statement of policy was prepared for the president's national water policy commission.

It was sharply critical of present federal policies. It took the army engineers to task for their method of figuring project costs and benefits on flood control and navigation works and called for "wholly realistic" estimates.

"The good will of the people 'brings best in the ground of naked honesty,'" the report said.

Over Hundred at Jaycees Picnic

Over a hundred persons attended the Sedalia Junior Chamber of Commerce picnic, which was held last Thursday evening at the Catholic Community Youth Center, at which time, the Jaycees, their wives, children and girl friends enjoyed a barbecue ham dinner with all the trimmings.

Prior to the picnic dinner, the Jaycee members picked sides and played a softball game, and it was finally terminated, when a Jaycee player smashed the ball in the lake.

Following the dinner, a short but important business session was conducted by Bob Wall, JCC president. Bob Younger, introduced all the Jaycees and their families.

Descriptive Account Of The National 4-H Club Camp

Emmett Fairfax, route 2, Sedalia, who attended the National 4-H club camp at Washington, D. C., gives the following descriptive account of his trip and of its proceedings:

"I was very happy to be chosen as one of the four members to represent Missouri at the Twentieth National 4-H Club Camp, which was held in Washington, D. C. from June 14 to 21, 1950. The theme of the Twentieth National 4-H Club Camp was 'Know Your Government'."

At the National 4-H Camp, 47 states, Hawaii, Puerto Rico and nineteen leaders of Rural Youth organizations in Canada, Cuba and seven European countries were represented. I had the privilege of meeting most of the delegates there and talking to many from our own country and foreign lands. It was very interesting to talk with people from other countries and hear their view point on different problems.

"Before we left for National Camp we attended the opening meeting of our own State 4-H Club week. By we, I mean the four delegates to the National Camp. The other three delegates were: Frances Ann Richards from Jamestown, Jenna Lee Martin from Fairfield and Frank Stanley from Matthews. Here we were introduced to the delegates to State Club Week. We were also presented checks from the Missouri Chain Store Council to help pay the expenses on our trip by Mr. Wendell Holman, Agricultural Representative of the Council.

"We left Columbia the next morning early and drove all day. Miss Ruth Crowley and Lester Akers from the State Club Staff were our chaperones. The second morning we started early and drove the rest of the way to Washington, D. C. On our way we traveled on the Pennsylvania turnpike and passed through two tunnels. One was the Laurel Hill tunnel and the other was the Allegheny Mountain tunnel. We traveled through seven states and we saw five state capital buildings on our trip.

Meals at Cafeteria
"National 4-H Club Camp got underway June 14. This was the evening we arrived. We registered at the Raleigh Hotel which was our headquarters. We roomed here also. We received all our meals at the Department of Labor Cafeteria."

"At the opening meeting Director of Extension Work U. S. D. A. Mr. M. L. Wilson made a welcoming address, and the New Market High School band of Indiana played several numbers. They knew we were coming so they baked a big birthday cake for us. It was the Twentieth birthday of National 4-H Camp.

"On Thursday, June 15, our second day of camp, we had a general assembly at Jefferson Auditorium, U. S. D. A. We had general assembly every day and at these meetings a 4-H delegate presided. At the first meeting we had an address entitled 'A Look Ahead At Mid-Century' by The Honorable Charles F. Brannon, Secretary of Agriculture. After his address he introduced the members of the U. S. D. A. staff.

"The theme of National 4-H Club Camp was 'Know Your Government'. The way we learned more about the Government was through tours. We started on our tour Thursday. The first place we went was Washington's Monument which is 555 feet high. We could see all of Washington from this tower. This was a beautiful place to view Washington.

"We traveled on buses to many interesting places. After a view of Washington from the Monument we traveled by the National Capitol, Supreme Court of the United States, Peace Cross, Greenbelt, Md., to National Agricultural Research Center, at Beltsville, Md. We traveled through the research center and had a very interesting time seeing the different experiments to improve methods in agriculture.

"In the evening we had a 4-H International Fellowship Party. This party was held at the Hall of Adventure, Chamber of Commerce, of the United States. At this party we played party games and had dancing. Also the delegates from foreign lands entertained us with dances they do in their lands. It was very interesting to see what they do for recreation in their countries.

Visited Supreme Court
On Friday June 16, we went on a tour to Capitol Hill. There we were introduced to the Supreme Court of the United States.

THE SEDALIA DEMOCRAT
Sedalia, Mo., Monday,
July 10, 1950

While we were there Justice Clark of Texas spoke to us. He is a very interesting speaker. He told us about the way cases are handled in the Supreme Court. After the visit there we divided up and part of the group went to the Senate Committee on Agriculture and Forestry and the rest of the group were guests of Committee on Agriculture of the House of Representatives. I went to the House of Representatives Committee. We were introduced to the members of the committee. On this committee was Representative Christopher from our 6th district in Missouri. I had the privilege of meeting him and he had a picture taken with the three Missouri delegates which were at this meeting. He sent me a picture which is very nice. We also toured through the Capitol and saw the senate in session and they weren't in session.

"That afternoon we boarded busses and traveled to the White House. Here President Harry S. Truman greeted us. At this event the President presented a historical 4-H Memento. This memento was made from an oak tree which grew at St. Vernon during Washington's time. Also the Hawaiian delegates put a lei around the President's neck. In the evening we visited the Library of Congress and the Lincoln Memorial. It was a beautiful picture to see the Lincoln Memorial at night.

Discussions Every Day
"On Saturday, June 17, we had music by the U. S. Army band. We had group discussions at most of our general assemblies which were held every day. This time we had an address by Dr. Friedrich T. Wahlen, Director, Agricultural Division, Food and Agriculture Organization. He spoke on the subject, 'What FAO Means to Rural Youth'. We had a group discussion that day on problems he talked to us about. We had most of these meetings in the Department of Labor Auditorium. This is the building where the first United Nations meeting was held. That afternoon we boarded busses and traveled to Cathedral of St. Peter and St. Paul and toured through this large structure. After that we visited the Smithsonian Institute, Arts and Industries Building. This was very interesting because we saw such things as the Spirit of St. Louis, and all the old Automobiles. That evening we walked to the Potomac of the United States Department of Agriculture where we had an International 'Open House' party. We had party games and were entertained by Foreign Delegates. They sang and danced for us.

"On Sunday, June 18 we traveled to Annapolis, Md., to the U. S. Naval Academy. Here we had a special chapel service at the U. S. Naval Academy Chapel. This is a very beautiful Chapel, and we had a nice service. Returning to Washington we traveled by some of the oldest cultivated lands in the United States.

"After dinner we traveled to Arlington National Cemetery Amphitheater. Here the 1950 National 4-H Club Camp placed a wreath on the Tomb of the Unknown Soldier. After that we walked to the Curtis-Lee Mansion. Here we walked through the house. It was fixed like it was in Lee's time. We also visited Washington's National Airport that afternoon. From there we traveled to the National Gallery of Art. This is one of the most beautiful buildings in Washington. We had supper at the cafeteria in this building, and had a concert there after supper.

"On Monday morning, June 19, Mrs. Charles F. Brannon had a panel of Youth delegates. The top

Mystery Farm Pictures in Central Missouri---

One of their discussion was "Our Citizenship Responsibilities in a Democracy". That afternoon was "All States Day". We could do anything we wanted to. At noon the Missouri delegates and leaders were guests of Representative Jones from the Southeast district of Missouri. We had dinner with him in the Representative dining room in the Capitol. He told us about the House of Representatives and how they passed bills, etc. We really did enjoy meeting Mr. Jones and talking to him. After that we visited the Bureau of Engraving and Printing.

"That evening, at the Department of Labor Auditorium, we were entertained by the Purdue University Varsity Glee Club under the direction of Dr. Albert P. Stewart. This was their first concert of their European Good Will Tour of France, Germany, Belgium, Netherlands, England, Scotland, and Wales. They will represent the United States at the Welsh Eisteddfod Music Festival. They really did entertain us with about two and one half hours of singing.

Talk By F. B. I. Agent
"On Tuesday, June 21, we had a general assembly in the morning. At this assembly Mr. Edward C. Kemper, Special Agent, Federal Bureau of Investigation, Department of Justice spoke to us on "Protecting Human Rights and Liberties". He made one of the best talks we heard on our trip. I wish more people could hear him in the Representative dining room in the Capitol. He told us about the Federal Bureau of Investigation. This was a very interesting tour. They told us how the FBI men are trained and showed us the laboratories where they have chemists working at all times to detect crimes. That afternoon we were entertained by the U. S. Marine band. We had as our speaker The Honorable Paul G. Hoffman, Administrator, Economic Cooperation Administration. He spoke on the subject "International Cooperation".

"That evening we had a 4-H Citizenship Ceremony at the National Archives building. At this ceremony the Honorable Knox T. Hutchinson, Assistant Secretary of Agriculture delivered an address to the group. The new voters were introduced to the group and re-

Whose farm is it?
Occupants of the above farm by the Sedalia Democrat-Capital home may have wondered this spring about a plane buzzing low over their buildings. The picture explains it. The airplane pilot didn't know whose farm it was. The photographer didn't either. The two of them just flew around the Central Missouri area served by the Sedalia Democrat-Capital newspapers and took pictures of the farms but they got as many good shots as possible during the light time.

Meet July 28 On Balanced Farming

Be At Tom Ream Farm North And East Of Sedalia

Pettis county's annual Balanced Farming meeting will be held Friday afternoon, July 28th, at the Tom Ream farm 10 miles north and 2 miles east of Sedalia.

The Reams have been working on their Balanced Farming plan since the fall of 1947. In that time they have built a new ranch style farm home, added a new machine shed, made some changes in the barn lots, built 7 terrace outlets and 1 concrete structure and terraced between 50 and 60 acres. Much of this soil improvement work has been done with equipment on the farm. Mr. Ream has also had the soil of most of the fields tested and has been following recommendations by applying heavy applications of fertilizer.

Visitors Will Tour Farm
Most of the time during the meeting the 28th will be spent looking over the farm and the home to see the improvements that have been made. There will also be considerable action that afternoon. This will include building terraces with a farm tractor and plow as well as with contract terracing equipment. Trees in a timbered ditch will also be taken out and the ditch pushed in so terraces can be built across it. Will Demonstrate Use of Anhydrous Ammonia

Probably the most interesting single activity will be the application of anhydrous ammonia to a permanent pasture that is being renovated.

Anhydrous ammonia contains 82 percent nitrogen as compared to 33 percent in ammonium nitrate. It is applied in the form of a gas so must be put directly into the soil. Because of this method of application, most anhydrous ammonia will probably be applied by custom operators. Even then the cost per pound of nitrogen, applied on the field, compares favorably with the cost of ammonium nitrate at the farm. A company from Carrollton will conduct the demonstration.

The local extension agents will be assisted July 28th by Miss Flora Carl, Extension Nutrition Specialist, and John Falloon, Extension Specialist in Soils, both from the University of Missouri College of Agriculture.

Cards Lost Three in Row To Pirates

A 4-2 Triumph For Browns Over The White Sox

By The Associated Press
The St. Louis Cardinals no doubt are glad of the three-day rest for the All-Star game after dropping three games to the Pittsburgh Pirates in as many days.

It will give Manager Eddie Dyer a chance to regroup his forces for the second half of the campaign, and give his pitchers a rest.

Yesterday the Bucs came from behind to take a 3-2 decision from Max Lanier and his reliever Howard Pollock.

Phillips Hints Homer
After five innings Max had the Pirates shutout on five hits. Then Jack Phillips, the boy who snatched victory from the Redbirds Saturday with his grand slam homer in the last of the ninth, hit another home run, with the bases empty.

With one gone in the seventh, Lanier walked Danny Murtaugh. Then Pete Castiglione flied out. It looked like Max was out of trouble. But two quick singles scored Murtaugh. Then Stan Rojek doubled, scoring Earl Turner and the game was lost.

At Sportsman's Park
At Sportsman's Park Ned Garver and his battery mate, Sherman Lollar, were in fine fettle as they led the Browns to a 4-2 triumph over the Chicago White Sox.

Lollar hit twice—a home run and a double. A walk in the first inning to Lollar also led to another run.

The White Sox' first run off Garver was in the first inning when the Browns' hurler threw a wild pitch like Chico Carrasquez was on third base. Two singles and a ground ball force out allowed the Sox their other run in the second.

Gave Up Six Hits
After the fourth Garver was the master, walking two out allowing no hits. Altogether he gave up six safeties and three walks.

Billy Pierce also was nipped. He just six hits but two of them were Lollar's extra base blows. Howard Judson relieved Pierce in the seventh. It gave the Browns three victories out of the five-game series with the Sox.

Golfing Activities At Country Club
Men golfers of the Sedalia Country Club, who shot in the 70's Sunday during 18-holes of qualifying rounds for the club championship were Charles Patterson, equalling par with a 72; Bud Grayson with a 75; May Herb E. Stader, shooting a 75 and C. D. Hieronymus, tallying a 76.

Major Harry Myers and John Myers, brothers, were guests at the club Sunday and shot the best ball of 62 for 18-holes. John Myers, on the second nine was on No. 9 green in 29 strokes, putting for a 30. He missed the putt but sank the next shot, for a 31, which gave him a total 18-hole score of 68.

The Sedalia Country Club golfers have the balance of this week and Sunday to turn in a 18-hole qualifying score for the club championship. In addition to the championship flight of 16 players, other flights will be formed according to the number turning in scores.

Tuesday, the golf team of the Sedalia Country Club will play the final match of the Inter-City tournament at Jefferson City, and will be accompanied by the club golf pro, Norman Scotten.

Pirate's Mentor Jests With Cards
PITTSBURGH, July 10—(AP)—Mr. William Meyer, local baseball manager, entertained a group of visitors from the west over the week-end.

After they left Mr. Meyer confided that they're his "cousins" from St. Louis.

The easy-going Pittsburgh Pirate mentor has good reason to dub the dazed Cardinals with baseball's synonym—"cousins" for easy mark.

As seems to be a Pittsburgh custom, the Pirates thumped the Red Birds when it hurt most.

The high flying Cards' and impotent Bucs got together at Forbes Field Friday night to begin a three game series. The visitors were on top of the National League and the Pirates at the bottom.

To make the picture more ominous for Meyer's limping crew the Cards sported a seven game winning streak and Pittsburgh had lost 31 out of their previous 39.

So the Pirates proceeded to whip their guests three times—9-1, 7-6 and 3-2—and topple the perplexed Cardinals off their league-leading perch.

It marked the first three game winning streak for Pittsburgh since the first week of the 1950 season; and the first time they have won two in a row since May 16.

The Pirates wield mastery over St. Louis is nothing new. Between 1900 and the start of the current season the Pirates won 622 from the Cards while losing 459.

Edging Lead For Millers in A. A.

By The Associated Press
Dixie Howell, 30-year old Minneapolis right-hander, lost his first game of the season Sunday after racking up 10 victories, but the Millers managed to split a double-header with Indianapolis to maintain their 12 game margin in the American Association lead.

Howell was subdued by another veteran, 35-year old Elmer Riddle. Riddle twirled a three hitter in guiding the second place Indians to an 8-2 opening triumph.

The Millers capped the seven-game nightcap, 7 to 6.

Louisville remained 2½ games off the pace in third place by dividing with St. Paul. Bob Alexander, strapping 27-year old right-hander for the Colonels, gave up only one hit in the short second contest in blanking the Saints 2-0.

Tom Limer spoiled a no-hitter with a looping single in the sixth inning.

Phil Haagstad notched his 11th win with a five-hit chore as St. Paul took the first game 7-2.

Tolero swept Milwaukee by identical 4-3 scores to regain sixth place.

Columbus' date at Kansas City was rained out.

Ever since the mighty "BaBo"

By Joe Reichler
CHICAGO, July 10—(AP)—The American League today ruled a strong 8-5 favorite to continue its dominance over the victory-minded Nationals in tomorrow's 37th renewal of baseball's All-Star game.

The fact that Vic Raschi, veteran pitcher of the New York Yankees, will open up for the American League against inexperienced Robin Roberts of the Philadelphia Phils has no bearing on the one-sided odds.

A Leading Career
The Americans probably would be favorites to win simply because they've made a career out of knocking the tar out of their inter-league rivals in the mid-summer and world's series classics.

Ever since the mighty "Babe" Ruth blasted his two-run homer to give it a 4-2 victory in the first All-Star game 17 years ago the American League has had the upper hand and now leads 12 games to 4. The National's last triumph came in 1934.

Capacity Crowd Expected
A capacity Gomelisky park crowd of 45,000 will watch the teams in action. Requests for more than 200,000 tickets were received.

Each team will use at least three pitchers. No pitcher is allowed to pitch more than three innings. The only home run of the day Manager Ben Shotton of the Nationals is expected to allow Roberto (10-3) with his own Pioneer Roe (10-4) and the New York Giants Larry Jansen (9-5). Roe, the belvedere of the Brooklyn staff, is the only southpaw.

Casey Stengel, the American League's leader, may send in Yankee Tommy Byrne (9-3) in the middle three innings and close with Chicago's Ray Scarborough (8-8).

Two Dodgers Start
Jackie Robinson of Brooklyn and "Babe" Scudder of the Chicago Cubs, who for a time, appeared doubtful starters, certainly will be in the opening lineup for the Nationals. Robinson was sidelined for several days because of a wrenched knee. Scudder, originally snatched by Stengel, will start either in left or center field.

Commissioner A. B. Chandler, reversing his ruling which permitted Shotton to replace Scudder with the Dodgers' Duke Snider, headed the protests of Chicago fandom.

Sunday's Results

Boston Braves Put Up Roaring Fight For League Pennant

By RALPH RUDEN
Associated Press Sports Writer
The word "pennant" is back in the vocabulary of the good folks up Boston way today. They're not referring to the Red Sox. But to Billy Southworth's Braves.

Billy the Kid's third place warriors are only two games out of first place. They have won 17 of their last 25 games, for a soaring .680 clip. Less than a month ago—June 14th to be exact—the Braves trailed the pack by six and one-half games.

Pitching has put the Braves where they are. Then Vern Riffe got into the picture, and recently Bob Chipman began to click to give Southworth his long desired "big four."

The Braves inched to within two games of the pace-setting Philadelphia Phils yesterday as Philadelphia turned in a brilliant 3-2, 13-inning victory over the New York Giants.

The Phils were trounced, 7-3, by the Brooklyn Dodgers but maintained their one game edge over St. Louis. The Cards dropped a 3-2 decision to the tail-end Pittsburgh Pirates.

Pittsburgh gained its third straight victory over the Cardinals by scoring twice in the seventh inning to wipe out a 2-1 deficit.

Race Tightens Up
The pennant race in the American League tightened up as the Cleveland Indians knocked off the league-leading Detroit Tigers twice, 6-2 and 5-2 before 54,399 fans in Detroit. The defeats cut the Tigers' margin over the runner-up New York Yankees to three games. The Yanks tripped the Boston Red Sox, 3-1.

St. Louis tied the Philadelphia Athletics for seventh place by beating the Chicago White Sox, 4-2, while the A's split a twin bill with the Washington Senators. The A's won the opener 6-3, but lost the nightcap, 3-0.

The Cincinnati Reds took two from the Chicago Cubs, 6-0 and 3-5. Ken Raffensberger shut out the Cubs on six hits in the opener.

Speedboat Driver Died
Almost Broke World Record
EDGEWOOD, Mo., July 10—(AP)—W. Scott, 50-year old Alex- after he missed smashing a world's record by a fraction of a second.

Scott had shot for the 48-cubic inch hydroplane record at the Bush River yacht club's annual regatta. Racing official Albert Bader said he fell shy by only a tenth of a second.

Scott bounced first across the line in the opening heat for the 48-cubic inches. But Bader said he was disqualified because his craft, Out Foxy, bent the gun.

He returned to the club house, dazed and died almost immediately.

Jr. American Legion Game Was Rained Out

For the second time this season a Junior American Legion baseball game has been rained out for Sedalia and Warrensburg. The game was scheduled to be played in Warrensburg Sunday and the date of the game has been re-set for July 23 at Warrensburg.

Tuesday night at Liberty park at 8:15 o'clock the "Teen-Age Blues" will play the Sedalia Post 16 team. The Blues will have their ace pitcher Smith ready and Post 15 will work Barnes and Arnold.

Smith has won his last six games for the Blues and they may be the boys to stop the Legion's 10-game winning streak. Two games have been played between the two teams and both have been hard fought and well played games.

The Blues will be without the services of Thomas, third baseman, who probably is lost to the team for the season with a broken leg.

The Post 16 team goes to Clinton for a night game July 13, then on Sunday, July 15, will meet the Sedalia Post 98 in the afternoon. This will be the final league game of the season.
